FOOTPRINTS OF THE CREATOR.—A French infidel, a man of some learning, was crossing a desert in Africa, called the Great Sahara, in company with an Arab guide. He noticed, with a sneer, that at certain times the guide whatever obstacles might arise, put them all aside, and kneeling on the burning sands, called on his God. Day after day passed, and still the Arab never failed to do this; till at last one evening, when he arose from his knees, the would-be philosopher asked him with a contemptuous smile—

"How do you know there is a God?"

The guide fixed his eyes on the scoffer for a moment in wonder and then said, solemnly:

"How do I know that a man and not a camel, passed my hut last night in the darkness. Was it not by the print of his feet in the sand, even so," said he, pointing to the sun, whose last rays were washing over the desert, "that foot print is not of man."—Selected.

A scrub-headed boy having been caught before the court as a witness, the following amusing colloquy ensued:

"Where do you live?" inquired the judge.

"Live with my mother."

"Where does your mother live?"

"She lives with father."

"Where does he live?"

THE CELEBRATED HERLONG
Cotton Seed.
FROM LOUISIANA.
BRYAN, TEXAS, Feb. 5th, 1873.
David McCrone, Esq.:
Sir—This to certify that I have planted five acres of land with the Herlong Cotton Seed, obtained of you about the first of last May, some of the seed did not come until the first of June. I did not get a full stand. I gathered off the five acres eight bales of cotton, averaging over five hundred pounds each. I am satisfied that with the same culture, it will yield twice as much as any other cotton, of which I have any knowledge. Besides it is earlier gathered. A hand can pick 75 to 100 pounds more per day and there is no more waste from falling out than with any other cotton.
Witness, H. M. Moore,
W. B. DAVIDSON.

Dallas, - - Texas.

We take this occasion to thank our friends for their liberal patronage extended to us while at Corsicana, and beg to remind them and the people generally, that we are now opening at Dallas one of the largest and most complete Stocks of Groceries ever brought to the interior of Texas.
Purchasing as we do, direct from Importers and Manufacturers exclusively, for cash on the spot, and by our own labor almost freeing ourselves from store expenses, and being no way involved in the unavoidable losses incidental to Big Credit Stores, it must be perfectly clear to the comprehension of every one that we can afford to sell our goods at small profits.
We would respectfully solicit the public when visiting our market to call and examine our Stock and prices for themselves. All articles guaranteed as represented, or money refunded.
Our House is situated on South side of Elm Street, N. E. of Public Square.
Respectfully,
